CAREER CLARITY

Your 30-minute career clarity consultation is FREE

Exclusively available to the contributing Members of the IAEA Staff Association

Have your career priorities changed as a result of the Pandemic? Are you looking for more time freedom so that you can be with your family, or do you feel that you want to make a greater contribution to help others?

Work takes up a large part of your life, and the Pandemic will have resulted in you having to manage huge changes in your working environment. It has also meant that many of you have called into question whether your current job or indeed your future plans match your true purpose doing something that fulfils your greatest potential.

If you're uncertain about what to do next, just book a 30-minute complimentary career clarity consultation with me (details below) when I will help you to uncover your core values so that you can move forward with greater conviction.

And if you are looking for dedicated support to discover how to position and promote yourself, I'll be happy to tell you more about the opportunities I offer for in-depth work.

Confusion is Exhausting. Clarity Creates Confidence.
